Governor Sean Parnell
STATE OF ALASKA

January 21, 2012

Dear Attendees,

Thank you for gathering here today for the 12th annual Interdenominational Prayer Service for the unborn.

The inalienable right to life is bestowed upon each of us by our Creator, and we cherish the timeless truth that every child is a gift of life, from the moment of conception. On the anniversary of Roe v. Wade, we stand together and recognize the value of human life and pray for those wounded by abortion.

By valuing every life, including the unborn, we strengthen the very fabric of our families and communities, and protect the lives of Alaska's future – our children.

May God bless each of you, and may He continue to bless our great state, her people, and our future.

Best regards,
